General Von Mackensen Seizes the Russian Advance Positions and Steadily Presses Ahead to Investment of the Galician Fortress

By Associated Press.

LONDON, June 14.—The British steamer Arndale, the British bark Crown of India, the Norwegian bark Bellglade and two Danish schooners Katrine and Cocos Marstal, have been sunk by German submarines, as well as the big British steamer Hopemont, which went down today.

Tonight it was learned that the French vessel Diamant had been sunk by a German submarine off Pandine, Wales. The crew was given two minutes to take to the boats and was landed at Plymouth.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, June 14, via London, 3:20 p. m.—Official announcement was made here this afternoon that General von Mackensen has occupied the Russian positions along the entire front in the eastern arena of the fighting from Cyerniaw to Sieniawa.

These places are in Galicia. Sieniawa is eighteen miles northwest of Jaroslau, on the river San. The statement follows:

"Western theater of war: The French suffered a severe defeat on the front between Lievin and Arras. After the enemy's columns, which were preparing to make an advance by storm, had been repulsed several times in the course of the day by our artillery, strong enemy attacks in close formation were begun toward evening against our positions on both sides of the Lorette Hills and on the Neuville-Bucquoy front. Our opponents were repulsed everywhere with heavy losses. All our positions are firmly in our hands.

"Minor attacks by the enemy on the Tser canal were repulsed.

"East of Hebuterne infantry battles have not led to any results worth mentioning. Advances against positions conquered by us in Champagne were frustrated at the very outset.

"Eastern theater of the war: In the neighborhood of Kuzie, northwest of Shavil, a few enemy positions were taken. Three officers and 360 men were taken prisoners. Southeast of the road from Mariampol to Kovno our troops took the first Russian line by storm. Three officers and 213 men were captured.

"Southeastern theater of war: General von Mackensen began an attack over a line extending 70 kilometers (43 miles). Starting from their positions at Cyerniawa, northwest of Moskiska and at Sieniawa, the enemy's positions have been taken along the entire length of this front. Sixteen thousand prisoners fell into our hands yesterday.

"Attacks by the troops under General von Linsingen and General von der Marwitz also made progress."

FIVE BOATS GO DOWN.

LONDON, June 14.—The British steamship Hopemont, of 3300 tons gross, was torpedoed and sunk today at a point west of St. Ives, England.

GOVERNOR HEARS ARGUMENTS FOR EXECUTION OF LEO FRANK

By Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 14.—The hearing on Leo M. Frank's plea for commutation of his death sentence to life imprisonment resumed before Governor Slaton today and was expected to be completed by night.

Solicitor Dorsey presented his brief against Frank's application and made an oral argument.

Mr. Dorsey discussed the case on three points raised by Frank's attorneys:

First, that Frank was not accorded a fair trial; second, that the evidence did not show the defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt; third, that Judge J. S. Roan, the trial judge, was not convinced of the prisoner's guilt.

Regarding the first point, Mr. Dorsey said counsel never asked a chance of venue and that there was no antagonistic sentiment toward Frank prior to the trial.

BE PATRIOTIC,
SAYS WILSON
TO PEOPLE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—President Wilson, speaking at Flag Day exercises here today, urged Americans to remember their patriotism on other days than national holidays and to carry the flag of the country ever in their hearts.

The President made no direct reference to the European war, or to international questions, but he was applauded whenever he made any reference to the patriotism of the people of the United States.

The exercises were held on the south steps of the treasury building. When the President arrived a large audience stood and cheered until he raised his hands for silence.

Introducing the President, Secretary McAdoo said the meeting was to pay homage to the flag of our country at a time when it has deeper significance than ever before in the world's history, when it is the hope of civilization.

The exercises were attended by Secretary Lansing, Secretary Daniels, Senator Simmons and many other government officials. A chorus of treasury department employees sang patriotic songs.

"For me," said the President, "the flag does not express a mere body of vague sentiments. It is the embodiment of our highest ideals."

Justify the allegation that the crowd in the courtroom shouted to the jury: 'Hang Frank, or we'll hang you!'

The state and federal courts, said Mr. Dorsey, held that Frank had not been deprived of any right in that he was absent from the courtroom, at the request of the chief clerk, during the trial. The courts also held, he said, that allegations of mob violence were not sustained.

MINISTERS PETITION.

The solicitor was interrupted to allow the Rev. C. B. Wilmer, a local Episcopal minister, to present a petition from Atlanta ministers, urging commutation. Dr. Wilmer urged the governor to decide the case on its merits and on justice and without regard to any form of prejudice.

Regarding the second point, Mr. Dorsey said counsel never asked a chance of venue and that there was no antagonistic sentiment toward Frank prior to the trial.

"There was no development in the trial," he said, "which might have been because of the harrowing details of the crime. The state supreme court, however, ruled upon this point that there had been no showing by the defense that there had been any demonstration in the courtroom which could have been held to have deprived the prisoner of a fair trial."

Judge Roan, himself, declared the solicitor, said he had a fair trial.

"The record shows," he continued, "that the demonstration by the crowd outside the courtroom was not heard by the jurors, and that there was nothing to

THOUSANDS WALK

Elevated Train Service
Commences Without Interference

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 14.—What is said to be the greatest street car strike the United States has known, began here at 4 o'clock this morning. Fourteen thousand persons were thrown out of employment, 1310 miles of single elevated and surface tracks rendered idle and a burden thrown on steam roads, automobiles, vans and other vehicles which they were able to meet only in a small part. For four hours not a car moved. Then a south side elevated train, carrying only a few passengers, made a round trip as a test. As a result it was announced that an attempt would be made to run trains with strike-breakers at guard-every fifteen minutes. The surface lines made no attempt to work.

No disorders were reported early. Business was not paralyzed, but it was disturbed.

The rupture, over hours of service and wages, came last night when Mayor Thompson admitted that his attempt at mediation was a failure.

MAHON RETURNS TO DETROIT.

W. D. Mahon, national president of the street car employees, after conferring here on the situation, returned to Detroit, his headquarters, to direct the financial phase of the strike. A carload of strike-breakers was reported to have arrived secretly from Cincinnati.

Orders to strike were issued after an all-day conference of union leaders, transportation company officials and Mayor Thompson, in a vain attempt to bring about arbitration. Neither side would yield. The strikers demanded a guaranty of a wage increase. Officials of the companies refused this demand. To meet it they said would mean an increase of $1,400,000 annually. W. D. Mahon, international president of the Street Carmen's Union, attended the conferences. Officials said that no attempt would be made to operate cars today.

Approximately 3,000,000 fares are collected on the two electric systems daily. The surface lines collect 400,000 and the elevated 600,000. There are 3125 cars operated daily by the surface lines and 1518 on the elevated, which operates 215 miles of track. The surface line operates 1093 miles.

Hurried preparations were made over night by officials of steam roads to bring to work today the great armies of clerks in stores, offices, workers and others in business in the downtown district. Hundreds of trains were added to the schedule.

VEHICLES DO BIG BUSINESS.

Taxis did a rushing business and the 5-cent automobiles which heretofore have failed to make much progress in the transportation problem were loaded with passengers. Hundreds of big motor trucks, also, were pressed into service. Roller skates were brought into use and thousands pedaled to their work on bicycles.

Arrangements to furnish 50,000 strike-breakers to operate cars and hand property were put into operation today. Agents of the two electric lines are arranging, it was said, to provide food and sleeping quarters in several large hotels.

Employment agencies did a record-breaking business in procuring men for strike-breaking duty. Banquet halls, sample rooms, and even the roofs of the large downtown hotels have been converted into sleeping quarters for nearly 15,000 persons who will be obliged to live near their places of business during the strike.

Order Permits S. P.
$910,000 Bond Issue

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—The railway business in this afternoon issued an order permitting the Southern Pacific Company to issue $910,000 first refunding 4 per cent Southern Pacific Railroad Company bonds for reimbursement purposes. The funds were expended for the erection of berths at San Francisco and Los Angeles for double tracking from Sacramento eastward and for the construction of culverts and bridges.

An additional issuance of $21,000 worth of bonds was ordered to permit the discharging of underlying bonds for the same amount.

Ali Baba in Ash Can Escapes Chain Gang

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Substituting a garbage can for the old jars mentioned in "The Arabian Nights" story of "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," W. H. Andrews, a chain gang prisoner, gained liberty which he still enjoyed today. Andrews was foreman of a prison squad whose duty it was to fill and load five-foot garbage cans in the vicinity of the East Side police station.

While a guard's back was turned Andrews leaped into one of the cans and drew the cover on. The guard, unaware of the can's contents, ordered it hoisted upon a wagon, which carried it to one of the dumps. Somewhere on the way Andrews left the vehicle. Reporting the case, the guard wrote: "He was a bad egg."

"Then he belonged in the can," annotated the cop, "but where was Ali Baba?"

AMERICANS IN
DEATH

By Associated Press.

NOGALES, Sonora, Mex., June 14.—The burning of the hamlet of Yaqui, near Escondido, by Yaqui Indians, and several brush fires between the warriors and American settlers, which were reported to Frederick Simpich, American consul, today, served to increase anxiety for Mrs. Jesse Anthony and Mrs. George Landdowne, the two American women who left here last week to make the 300-mile journey to Esperanza alone.

No Americans were reported hurt in the fighting, which is said to have occurred last week. Hostilities were not renewed, so far as known, although several ranches were reported to be surrounded by the Indians.

DEVELOPMENTS EXPECTED.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Attention of Washington officials was focused today on the military situation in Mexico, and there was a possibility of important developments which might bring ultimate peace in the southern republic. Chief interest centers in the outcome of the peace negotiations between Carranza troops and Villa forces for the possession of Mexico City, now in the hands of the Villa's men.

Advices received here from Carranza forces at Vera Cruz said that General Pablo Gonzalez, a Carranza commander, who is now moving toward Mexico City, had been approached by members of the convention party from the Mexican capital with an offer of an armistice. His answer is said to have been that the forces in Mexico City had better join the Carranza forces or evacuate the city without shedding blood. According to the same information, Gonzalez was expected to arrive in Mexico City today.

Developments in the military situation at Mexico City are awaited with considerable interest here because of the likelihood of their influence on the political side of Mexico's problem.

OREGON SENDS WORD.

The Carranza agency here today had no confirmation of the reported death of General Obregon, who had his right arm amputated.

Webb-Kenyon Liquor
Cases Disposed of

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The Supreme Court of the United States today disposed of the so-called Kentucky Webb-Kenyon liquor cases without determining the constitutionality of the Webb-Kenyon law or passing on its construction.

The Kentucky case was a prosecution of the Adams Express Company for bringing liquor from Kentucky into Kentucky. The Kentucky law prohibited the bringing of liquor into the state from any other state.

Justice Day, for the court, held it was bound to accept the decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals that the Webb-Kenyon law was not applicable.

Under that decision the conviction of the express company was set aside.

Albany Complains

Police Officer Defends
Character of Friend
in Testimony

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Declaring it as his opinion that perjury had been committed and informing Chief Inspector Fred Sutherland that he would not stand for the besmirching of the character of one of his comrades now dead, Sergeant of Police Richard Francis Foley testified before President John F. Neylan of the Board of Control in the drug investigation this morning. Foley appeared armed with the police records showing that when Ernest Nell Frye swore in an affidavit that he had told Policeman Bryan C. Woods that there was an opium joint at the Quincey Apartments, August 10, 1913, that that officer had been dead for three months, having been murdered in the discharge of his duty, May 4, 1914.

"Nine hundred of us fellows in the police department are not going to stand for a charge like that," said Foley, threateningly looking at Sutherland. "We are going to find out about this slandering of a fellow murdered in the discharge of his duty. He was my partner. I helped bury him, and now his widow out there reads that kind of stuff and suffers."

NOT PERJURY, NEYLAN.

It developed that although Frye had made the affidavit and his statement had been written down by Sutherland, he had subsequently testified that it was not true that he had reported the occurrence to Wood, but that he had told Grover Pickler he had done so just to scare him.

"You see," explained President Neylan, "that there was no perjury committed here by Frye."

"Then, who wrote that affidavit?" demanded Foley.

"It was written by Mr. Sutherland in consultation with Frye."

"And don't you know that that is a violation of section 127 of the penal code?" declared Foley as he left the room.

The sergeant had previously given testimony about a raid in the Belvedere Hotel, an alleged notorious resort of drug fiends in which a woman named Mary Jane White was found with $3000 worth of diamonds on her fingers had been arrested.

He had also criticized Sutherland for being ignorant of the character of the Belvedere when he lived just around the corner.

U. S. AID PROFFERED.

The revealing of these facts and the offer of J. J. Scott, collector of internal revenue, to co-operate with President Neylan in the investigation formed the feature of the day's inquiry.

The first witness was Detective Thomas A. Joyce of the Southern station. He said that he had met "Little Spence" Sutherland, who said to him:

"I am sorry I spoke and if I could get a grain of morphine I would be glad to give it to you."

This was after "Little Spence" had testified at the hearing at the behest of Sutherland.

Joyce also stated that James White had told him that Inspector Sutherland had gone to the Howard house and had taken $7 or $5 and some morphine. Later White had denied this. He was instructed to go out and get White and was followed on the witness stand by Foley, who brought the records of the department.

He said:

"It was September 3, 1912. A woman whom I caught with opium told me that the Belvedere was full of hop joints. I went there and found about 3 o'clock in the morning in the corridors that you could write your name in it, and Sutherland lived only a block away around the corner. I reported to Sergeant Harbilly and he ordered a raid. When I came back in 1914 there was no more opium smoking there, but there was some peddling of morphine going on. That first raid was made by Policeman Loisen. There was a

Girl-Mother Lives
Many Donate Skin

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—With approximately half of her body, from ankle to shoulder, covered by the skin of more than 20 other individuals, Mrs. Sonia Gotschhoff, aged 17, who for six months has fought death in various forms, was pronounced to be practically recovered. She will have to remain in the hospital, however, until a mechanical device adapted from the German military service, works the stiffness from the skin of her legs.

The girl, an immigrant from Russia, lived in a single room that sheltered several families. She was washing one day, when the shack, crowded with stoves, beds and wash tubs, caught fire. The fire blocked her egress for a time. The flames burned the clothing from her body. Two days later a baby was born at a hospital. It died.

Afterward she was taken to a new house, but was found in danger of dying of blood poison. Rushed to a hospital again, 20 firemen and about a dozen other men and women rendered aid to her. The life of the girl, the donated strips were grafted upon her. The addition was perfect and the girl, hugging a doll given her in place of the baby that died, was permitted to sit up today.

GRAND JURY
ELECTION

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Expenditures made by both sides in the election two weeks ago, in which Charles E. Sebastian was chosen mayor, were made the subject of an inquiry today by a committee of the grand jury, which will determine whether the matter shall be placed before the whole body of inquirers.

Owen McAleer, campaign manager for Sebastian, and several lieutenants of Fredrick E. Whiffen, president of the city council and defeated mayoralty candidate, were summoned as witnesses. It was understood that the committee also had under investigation the activities of Harry E. Prettyman, who is alleged to have hired 500 men and women election workers and then disappeared when the time came to pay them. Prettyman is said to have worked under the name of the "Businessmen's Committee" and hired election workers under promises of $250 if Whiffen failed of election and $5 if he won.

Whiffen denied that Prettyman or the "Businessmen's Committee" had anything to do with his campaign. Attorneys representing Whiffen said today they were preparing a petition to the Superior Court to order a recount of the election ballots, which on the official count showed Sebastian's majority more than 4500.

U. S. AID PROFFERED.

Review of Former Conviction Refused at Washington

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The Supreme Court of the United States today declined to review the conviction of F. Drew Caminetti of Sacramento, Cal., on charges of violating the white slave law.

Caminetti was convicted after a sensational trial, which attracted national attention because of the prominence of Caminetti's father, the commissioner-general of immigration; the resignation of the United States district attorney, John L. McNab, at San Francisco, under whose jurisdiction the prosecution came, and a controversy with Attorney-General McReynolds and Secretary Wilson of the Department of Labor, which ended by President Wilson taking a hand and appointing a special prosecutor.

Apparently no further local remedies lie between Caminetti and a final sentence.

ASKS RECONSIDERATION.

Later former Senator Bailey, as counsel, applied for a review of the conviction of Maury I. Diggs. The court took the application under consideration. At the same time the attorney obtained leave to file this week an application for a reconsideration of the refusal of the court to review the Caminetti case.

TO ARREST CAMINETTI.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—F. Drew Caminetti, who was released on bail bond of $10,000 pending a decision on his application for review by the United States Supreme Court denied today, will be taken into custody by the United States marshal as soon as the mandate for his arrest is received here.

Caminetti, although at liberty, has been confined to the Northern California district of the Federal court.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 14.—When the death here today of Major George G. Ashburn, 62 years old, passed away one of the last of the scout pony riders and wagon bosses of frontier days. BROTHER AND SISTER ARE GIVEN
MAJOR PART OF MOREHOUSE ESTATE

Petition for probate of the large estate of the late Lewis C. Morehouse, prominent San Leandro banker, who died a week ago, was filed in the Superior court today, together with the will, which disposes of property valued at approximately $100,000.

Albert C. Morehouse, a brother living in San Leandro and Mrs. Olive Hooper, of 215 East Twenty-ninth street, Los Angeles, are left the residue of the estate after bequests aggregating $5000 have been distributed to half a dozen relatives and friends.

The brother and sister were named as executor and executrix in the will, but they have waived their right to act in favor of Charles H. Hale and Elsie Smith of San Leandro, who have assumed the duties of administration.

Four nephews, who live at Kohns, Ill., each receive $1000 each by the terms of the will. They are Le Roy, Roland V., Adolph and Leslie Rodgers, children of a deceased sister.

The will in full is as follows:

"I, the undersigned, L. C. Morehouse, of San Leandro, Alameda county, California, do make, publish and declare as my last will and testament, that is to say:

"First, I hereby give and bequeath to Mary Bernbach of San Leandro, Alameda county, California, the sum of fifteen ($1500) hundred dollars.

"Second, I give and bequeath the sum of one thousand ($1000) dollars to each of the following, viz.: Marion Jewett and Maude Jewett, of Sparta, Wisconsin;

"Third, to Mrs. Marie Leake of Los Angeles, California, I give and bequeath the sum of five hundred ($500) dollars;

"Fourth, to Al H. Jewett of White Salmon, Washington, I give and bequeath the sum of one thousand ($1000) dollars;

"Fifth, I give and bequeath the sum of four thousand ($4000) dollars to the children of my deceased sister, Emily Rodgers, of Lake County, Illinois, share and share alike, but if any of them shall have heretofore died or shall hereafter die, leave issue, then that one share shall go to such issue by right of representation;

"Sixth, all the rest and residue issue of my estate of every kind and character, and whatsoever shall be due to my brother and sister Albert and Elsie Smith in and to my brother, Albert C. Morehouse, of Sacramento, California, and my sister Olive Hooper of Los Angeles, California, share and share alike;

"Seventh, I hereby appoint my said brother and sister Albert C. Morehouse and Olive Hooper executors of this will and I direct that they be not required to give any bond as such, and to my said executors and to each of them I give and grant full power and authority to sell and convey and convert into cash any and all of my estate as public or private and without notice and without the order of any court therefor;

"Eighth, all former wills by me made I hereby revoke.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name in the presence of two attesting witnesses this July 20th, 1909.

ALBANY DRY THREATEN RECALL

ALBANY, June 11.—Democratization of the three council members who were elected for the coming year, Albany, has been threatened by a recall vote. The recall vote was called, occupied the attention of a largely attended mass-meeting at the schoolhouse yesterday. Pending a report of a committee of twenty-five appointed to arrange details and to decide upon the proper course of action the meeting adjourned until Thursday evening.

The committee named as possible candidates for the recall are Richard T. Davis, Frank Roberts and Mayor R. F. Daniels, all of whom voted for the license last week granted to Robert Davis of San Francisco. Fred Davis voted against the measure and Eugene Davis did not vote.

Rev. Hugh Baker, pastor of the Main Avenue Methodist church, and a leader of the "dry" forces, voiced the sentiment of his following when he declared that the granting of the license was a violation of an understanding that there were to be but three saloons here and that all arrangements to refrain from bringing the issue to another vote were thereby abrogated. L. C. Green, chairman of the meeting, was another speaker.

The committee was appointed from the Albany Improvement Club, the East Side Improvement Club, the Civic League and from the audience. It has been instructed to consider the advisability of presenting a petition and to immediately prepare for the wet and dry contest.

The large attendance and the fact that the "drys" in this instance have supporters who have not heretofore been with them, leads many in Albany to believe that the coming election will be closely contested and that the issue will be drawn on the question of the maximum limit for saloons.

Dupont Buys Equitable Plans Mutualization

NEW YORK, June 11.—Complete mutualization of the Equitable Life Insurance Society is the plan of General T. Coleman Dupont, who has just bought the majority holdings of the stock of the society from J. E. Morgan.

Reports that this is the purpose of the new owner were confirmed today by his representative here, Hugh McManey, who said that General Dupont would soon offer policy holders a two or three-year option on the stock.

It is believed that General Dupont, who now holds 502 shares will let it go for what he paid for it, plus interest for the time the stock is in his hands. That price has not been disclosed but is believed to be well upwards of $2,000,000.

Would Oust Exchange by Revoking Charter

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 11.—A writ to oust the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange from the state was issued by the Missouri Supreme Court today. The writ was made returnable in the October term of the court. It was issued on application of Attorney-General Barker, who asked that the charter of the exchange be revoked because it charges 50 cents a car for weighing grain at St. Louis.

Special Announcement

The management having charge of the great SCHUMANN-HEINK concert to be given in the Oakland Auditorium on the evening of June 17th, respectfully requests that all ticket-holders make a special effort to be in their seats before 8:15 o'clock, as courtesy demands no interruptions while the great artist is singing.

Therefore, orders have been given to the ushers to admit no one into the arena except during the intermissions.

It is doubtful if the people of the east bay cities will ever have the opportunity of hearing Mme. Schumann-Heink sing again under the favorable conditions which surround this concert.

Prices:

GENERAL ADMISSION, 50c.

It was only as a special concession that the Madame agreed to sing at these prices, in order that the WEST OAKLAND HOME might benefit thereby.

General admission includes all seats above the third row in the balcony. These are all good seats and the acoustics of the Auditorium have been pronounced perfect, the people of Oakland and Alameda county will be able to enjoy to the fullest extent this most extraordinary occasion.

That the demands for tickets shall be promptly met without inconvenience to the thousands that are applying for them, arrangements have been made by which the telephone line to the Auditorium Box Office can be utilized.

BIDS FOR INFIRMARY OPENED First Unit Contract Will Be Awarded at Once

The first step in the building of the new County Infirmary was taken today when, before the Board of Supervisors, bids were received for the excavating and foundations for the first unit, the building to be erected at once.

The lowest bid was filed by the Clinton Fire-Proofing Company of California, the estimated cost being $12,500. The other bids were: J. J. Brady, $18,180; W. D. Henderson, $24,850; Large & Bergstrom, $25,000; David Linton, $41,350; Peterson & Person, $45,820; Foster, Vag & Co., $10,337; Henry Laves, $45,554; Construction and Engineering Company, $37,400; George A. Harry G. Williams, representing the Oakland Fire-Proofing Company, which was asked an appropriation of $100 for celebration. The matter will be taken up in committee session.

URGE CITY HOSPITAL.
Mrs. J. P. Hogan appeared asking that immediate action be taken toward building a down-town hospital.

The present hospital is inadequate, declared Mrs. Hogan, and, after inspecting the hospital quarters of the jail, I can say this is inadequate. Wages are low and the poor need a hospital, and need it badly.

Supervisor Kelley presented a resolution declaring the sense of the body to be that "and be secured for such hospital at once."

On account of Chairman Murphy's absence, the matter was set for special order of business for next Monday.

"Can we not start on the new hospital at once?" asked Mr. Hogan.

"No," said Acting Chairman Foss. "We would have to wait until the next session."

"Of course," added Kelley, "there is always money available if a levy is made by the board."

The matter is out that a surplus of $200,000 is available, said Mulline.

"This is a mistake. No money will be available until the tax levy is made in September."

Contract will be ratified for the infirmary foundations at next Monday's meeting on report of the district attorney and county engineer.

P. H. Hoare was awarded the Dublin road contract at a cost of $136.

BIDS RECEIVED.
Bids were received for repairs to the recorder's office. Both were referred to the board.

On a cross-examination Chief Inspector Sutherland insisted that he lived a block and a half away from the Belvedere, on Washington street, between Powell and Mason.

He would not agree to this, saying the Belvedere extended half way down the block and there were a couple of blocks between.

"You could throw a stone from your house to the Belvedere. If you had a good nose you could smell the opium," he said.

Patrolman Charles Loreen was next and described his arrest of the opium smokers and the beleveled woman.

Miss Amy B. Mayes of 239 O'Farrell street, a former guest of the Belvedere, had seen opium smoked in the place and declared that it was notorious during 1911, 1912 and 1913 as a resort of drug users.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Admitting that he had talked with leading government officials of Germany, France and England, but denying that his trip to Europe was in any way connected with a possible mission looking toward peace, or that he was the personal emissary of President Wilson, Colonel Edward M. House arrived here yesterday from Liverpool.

I did not talk peace and that was not my mission abroad," Colonel House declared. "That report was the biggest piece of nonsense that I have heard." He also said that he was not called home by President Wilson.

Colonel House said that since leaving New York, January 29 of this year, he had met and talked with leading officials of the governments mentioned, but added that his visit was a personal one, as a private citizen and that it had no political significance.

Supervisors Have Bronze Plaque; Now Seek Fitting Frame

The man who had the white elephant of comic opera fame had his troubles, but the Board of Supervisors has a bronze plaque. It has arrived, following the official exercises of Alameda County Day at the exposition. The supervisors' meeting today could not decide what to do with it.

"I thought to be put in the County Clerk's office," declares County Clerk George Goss.

"We ought to keep it for the cornerstone of the new court house," declares Supervisor John F. Mulline.

"It would look fine in the plaza at Hayward," suggests Supervisor Charles Meyer.

"It ought to go on the jail or in the grand jury room, where the building is newer," says Sheriff Frank Harney.

In the meantime the plaque is homeless. It lay on the supervisors' desk yesterday, and finally was turned over to Secretary Edwin Stearns of the exposition commission, who is holding it until final orders.

It would not have come out at all the story, had it not been for an accident. No one would have ever suspected that Mary carried it where she did, or that there was anything left to carry, according to the records at the Emergency hospital.

But the bottle broke; what was left was lost. And broken glass cuts, under certain conditions. That's why Mary went to the hospital. After first aid treatment the patient was dispatched to the county infirmary to fully recover.

EL PASO, June 11.—The anticipated arrival today of George C. Crotthers and Miguel Diaz Lombardo from Aguas Calientes was being awaited with keen interest in American and Mexican circles. They were expected to have authentic knowledge of the military situation between the Villa-Obregon forces in Central Mexico.

The statement will be entitled "The Causeless War." It was said it would be Mr. Bryan's last "for the present."

Los Angeles Jeweler Loses $5000 by Theft

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—When James A. Wallman opened his jewelry store in Alhambra, a suburb, today he found the safe blown open, and a stock of watches and diamonds valued at about $5000, gone. The robbers performed the work in exactly the same manner as those who opened the safe of a jeweler at Ontario early last night. In both cases the explosive wrecked only the safe combinations. In neither instance was the sound of the explosion heard. From the Ontario laundry the safecrackers took $20.

ment, not of a sentiment, but of a history, and no man can rightly serve under that flag who has not caught some of the meaning of that history.

"You do not create the meaning of a national life by any literary exposition of it, but by the actual daily endeavors of a great people to do the tasks of the day and live up to the ideals of honesty and righteousness, and just conduct and as we think of these things our tribute is to those men who have created this experience. Of these men we feel that they have shown us the way. They have not been afraid to go before. They have known that they were speaking the thoughts of a great people when they led that great people along the paths of achievement. There was not a single swashbuckler among them. They were men of sober, quiet, thought, the more effective because of their quietness. They were men who thought and acted the lines of duty, not along the lines of self-aggrandizement. They were men, in short, who thought for the people whom they served and not of themselves.

UNKNOWN, NATION'S BODY.

"But while we think of them and do honor to them as those who have shown us the way, let us not forget that the real experience and life of a nation lies with the great multitude of unknown men. They constitute the body of the nation. This flag is the essence of their daily endeavors. This flag does not express any more than what they are and what they desire to be; and as I think of the life of this great nation it seems to me that we sometimes look to the wrong places for its sources.

"We look to the noisy places, where men are talking in the market places; we look to where men are expressing their individual opinion; we look where partisans are expressing passion, instead of trying to attune our ears to the voice of the nation, which merely goes about their daily tasks, try to be honorable, try to serve the people they love, try to live worthy of the great communities to which they belong. These are the breath of the nation; these are the lines of the life of the nation; these are the lines of the life of the nation.

"There are no days of special patriotism. There are no days when you should be more patriotic than on other days.

GREAT HOST BEHIND.

"I am sometimes reminded of the presence of such a day. I would not undertake to speak your thoughts. You must interpret them for me. But I do feel that back, not only of every public official, but of every man and woman of the United States, there matches that great host which has brought us to the present day; the host that has never forgot the vision which it saw at the birth of the nation; the host which always responds to the dictates of humanity and of liberty; the host that we always constitute the strength and the great body of friends of every man who does his duty to the United States.

"I am sorry that you don't wear a little flag of the Union every day in your pocket, and that you don't ask you, if you lose the physical emblem to be sure that you wear it in your heart, and the heart of America shall interpret the heart of the world."

"El caracter del hombre no se prueba con movimiento de puño"

[Character is not always proved by waving fists.]

I tell you that Van Dyck is made of that precious leaf from Cuba's chocolate-colored soil.

"Oh—ho!" you say, "He is a black and heavy fellow—this so-much praised companion."

Not so, señor!

True, he meets you with a firm hand-clasp—but never to squeeze the hand so that your ring cuts into your fingers.

He says words worth the hearing—but never in the blatant voice. He looks you steadily in the eye but never does he pry.

His very strength grows from his bland aroma! Firm but ever with tropical sunniness, he brings you back to him for friendly intercourse.

Italian Strategy Wins Outpost of Trent

By Associated Press. VERONA, Italy, via Paris, June 14.—Details of the capture by Italians of Monte Zugna, situated approximately four miles northeast of Ala, reached here today from the battle front.

The position was fortified strongly and surrounded by strong wire entanglements and three lines of trenches. A platform had been built upon it for cannon. The position comprised also two large barracks, which are reported to have cost $800,000, and which possessed the most modern equipment.

An Italian reconnaissance platoon, seeing that the fortifications were undermanned, deployed in several detachments, pretending to be a battalion instead of a contingent of less than 100 men. The Austrian garrison surrendered and the mountain was occupied without a single Italian casualty. Monte Zugna dominates the town of Rovereto and is within sight of Trent.

NEWSPAPER MEN LEARN STATE FRUIT METHODS

CHICAGO, June 14.—Marketing methods and business aims of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange were explained today by G. Harold Powell of Los Angeles, general manager of the organization, in an address before seventy-five representatives of the leading newspapers of the country. He explained the operations of the exchange, which does a business of approximately $60,000,000 a year without capital and without profit, and pointed out the advantages of the principle to both the grower and the consumer of California oranges and lemons.

"One thing, we believe, is misunderstood by the average consumer," Powell said. "That is this, the California orange is not a winter orange which has been held in cold storage, but is a fresh-picked summer fruit. The orange known as the Valencia variety comes into the market about May 1 and is picked and shipped from the trees every day thereafter until about November 1, when the 'navel' variety comes into the market. It is therefore possible to have fresh oranges from California a year around.

"The exchange is carrying on an extensive advertising campaign for the purpose of increasing the consumption of oranges and lemons and we feel that this campaign is having a beneficial effect on the public health generally."

WOMAN HESITATED, LOST THE BURGLAR

Thief's Threats Scared Mrs. Carter, So She Dared Not Shoot.

Mrs. A. E. Carter, 1409 Seventy-third avenue, stood face to face with an armed burglar, and decided a revolver which she had taken from a bureau drawer, at his head. Her hand trembled a little.

"If you draw that trigger, I'll murder you sure," growled the burglar. "Don't shoot, for if you do, I will surely kill you."

The threat had its effect. Mrs. Carter was too alarmed to use the weapon, and taking advantage of her hesitation, the burglar dashed through an open doorway, and ran out of the house, making good his escape.

Mrs. Carter returned home late last night. She disturbed the burglar at work ransacking the house. She got her pistol, but was unable to use it, on account of the threats. The burglar failed to obtain anything of value.

P. Bertinelli, 506 Forty-sixth street, reported to the police that his home was entered and looted. Jewelry valued at $55 was stolen, together with silverware and plate. The family found that several pieces of jewelry had been thrown under the bed, apparently when the burglar was interrupted, and hurriedly made his escape.

The plate glass window in front of the cigar store of J. J. McElahy, 437 Eleventh street, was smashed last night by a man who stole $3 packages of cigarettes from the show window.

ALAMEDA COUNTY FILMS POPULAR IN ANGEL CITY

Motion pictures of Alameda county industries and pleasure and beauty spots are receiving more attention at Exposition park, Los Angeles, than at the San Diego Exposition, according to Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, in a letter to the Alameda County Exposition Commission today.

This county's magnificent exhibits at Exposition park as well as at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce building and the San Diego Exposition.

"We are running the Alameda county films to larger crowds in Exposition park than in either of the regular Expositions," writes Wiggins. "We divide the reels between the agricultural building and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and Sunday we show to over 400 at each run of the pictures."

Alameda county representative John C. Hayes at the San Diego Exposition also writes to the County Exposition Commission to tell of the success of Alameda county day at the southern exposition last Saturday, and of the crowds that flocked to the tons of cherries that were given away on that day.

COUNTY MAYO MEN'S PICNIC ARRAMUSHA, 'T WAS FINE TIME!

MISS HELEN CONNOLLY, WHO TOOK PART IN THE PROGRAM OF THE MAYO MEN'S FESTIVAL.

Mayo Men's day at Schuetzen park, San Rafael, yesterday, was the occasion of the biggest gathering of Irish men and women which has thus far marked the Exposition year. There are hundreds of visiting members of the Mayo Men's Association in San Francisco from all parts of the country and these visitors were honored guests of their California colleagues at the festival.

A feature of the program was the rendition of the Irish song, "When It's Moonlight in Mayo," by a chorus of some hundred voices led by well-known soloists.

Irish belles and Irish lads competed in a tournament of Gaelic dancing for a long list of attractive trophies.

There was a track and field meet under the auspices of the Pacific Athletic Association, in which fleet runners and all-around athletes of the bay district took part.

Irish games were played and Irish customs, which most of the Mayo men have not recalled since they left the old country were revived.

Through special arrangements with the railroads excursions were brought to the park from Sacramento, Stockton, Marysville and other interior cities.

Supervisors Andrew J. Gallagher

and John O. Walsh were at the head of the committee of arrangements. Their assistants included T. J. Quinn, Thomas Rush, P. A. Duffy, J. Quinn, Thomas J. Jordan, M. J. Lally, John Boyle, William F. McHugh, P. J. Roddy, Richard McShane and E. Rattigan.

LIFE OF SERVICE IS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

WIFE BEATING CHARGED.

Thomas Lambert was arrested in Melrose last night for drunkenness by Corporal O'Neil. Lambert has been arrested about five times before for the same offense and for beating his wife. According to the police, Mrs. Lambert has been supporting the family by her own labor, and the only reason Lambert has not been prosecuted was that his wife was not able to take the time from her work.

PETITION FILED TO OUST SALOON

First Proceeding Commenced Under Recently Enacted Liquor Law.

The first proceeding to oust a saloon from a residence district under the provisions of the recently enacted initiative liquor ordinance, was commenced today against the saloon of McCaffrey & McCaffrey, 501 College street.

The new ordinance provides that a saloon can be ousted from a residential district if the voters within 150 feet of the front door of the place petition for its removal. It is not necessary to present any reasons other than the wishes of the neighborhood, and if this is expressed in a majority petition it becomes mandatory to revoke the license for this location.

The petition filed today was signed by 250 of the 343 qualified voters, this being, according to the letter transmitted with the petition, an actual majority of 55. The letter was signed by J. Gustaf White, M. L. Kimball and Arthur Arlett, representing the "neighbors."

The petition was referred to City Clerk Frank Smith and City Engineer Perry F. Brown for a verification of the signatures and affidavits. This was done at the request of Arthur Arlett, president of the Public Welfare League, who filed the petition, and is in accordance to the procedure set forth in the initiative liquor ordinance.

The letter accompanying the petition follows:

"We have the honor of transmitting to your honorable body the accompanying petition, properly signed by a majority of the voters registered from within, and now residing within seven hundred and fifty (750) feet of the front door of the premises operated by McCaffrey & McCaffrey, at 501 College street, asking for the revocation of the liquor license of said McCaffrey & McCaffrey in accordance with the provisions of Section 7a of Ordinance No. 341 N. S."

"In presenting this petition permit us to respectfully call the attention of your honorable body to these facts:

"1. The signatures to this petition were affixed between noon of Saturday, June 5, and the hour of this presentation.

"2. This petition is a spontaneous expression of the real wishes of the neighborhood and is not in any way the result of agitation from without or of direction by any anti-liquor organization.

"3. According to our conscientiously gathered information the total number of registered voters within this 750 feet zone is 415, of whom two (2) have died and 55 moved away, or are not now residing in the zone, leaving a balance of 343 qualified voters. These facts are established by the accompanying affidavits.

"4. Of the 343 qualified voters, the neighbors have interviewed all who were in town and could be seen and found only 56 in favor of the continuance of this saloon and liquor store in our residence district, while 230 petitioned for the revocation of its license, which is 55 more than the majority required under the aforesaid Ordinance No. 341 N. S."

"We therefore present the accompanying petition to your honorable body with full confidence that you will carry out the clear intent of Ordinance No. 341 N. S. and order a revocation of the aforesaid license in accordance with the expressed wishes of a majority of the qualified electors. Respectfully submitted,

J. GUSTAF WHITE,

COUNCIL REFUSES $3000 FOR FOURTH

Half of Amount Voted Although Merchants' Exchange Asks for More.

"On behalf of the new commissioners, I wish to thank the city council," said President Harry G. Williams of the Merchants' Exchange, when the city council failed to meet with him in the matter of an appropriation for the Fourth of July celebration. A resolution was introduced, but the commissioners were a puzzled lot, and Williams departed without further comment.

Williams headed a delegation which has been urging the appropriation of $3000 by the municipality for the entertainment fund for the purpose of holding an "old-fashioned Fourth of July." He wanted the money taken from the funds of the current fiscal year, which closes June 30.

"There is no reason to come to us," said Commissioner F. C. Turner. "The money will be expended in the next fiscal year, and we have no money to spare."

"What's the use of trying to do business with this bunch?" interposed President Williams. "We have some friends in the new administration."

"I'll vote for an appropriation of $1500 out of next year's funds," said Turner.

"Make it $2500," demanded Williams.

Commissioners Turner and Forrest refused to go higher than $1500, and an ordinance was passed to print carrying this amount.

SALOON MAN DENIED CHANGE IN LICENSE

The city council denied the application of Police Nesti, 551 Center street, for a change in the classification of his liquor license from saloon to restaurant with bar. The chief of police reported that the man was not a bona fide restaurant in connection with the saloon, and that the place would be a resort to give women an opportunity of drinking in this neighborhood.

Giovanni Colich, 1518 Seventh street, was permitted to withdraw his application for a transfer of ownership.

The following transfers of ownership were granted by the city council:

Andrew Krueckel and William Krueckel, 1446 Broadway, successors to L. J. Sievers, trustee, same address, saloon; L. W. Whitehead, 3150 Adeline street, successor to T. E. Whitehead, same address, saloon; M. Landucci, 1501 Seventh street, successor to P. Bargiacchi, same address, saloon; Peter Busso, 600-604 Broadway, successor to C. Cereghino, same address, restaurant with bar.

AN AMERICAN-CHINA BANK.

Of more than passing interest is the announcement just made in New York City that the visiting Chinese Trade Commission, composed of eighteen business men and an under secretary of the Ministry of Agriculture and Commerce, is, besides inspecting our methods of business, engaged in the organization of an American-Chinese bank. According to the preliminary plans, the head office of the institution is to be established in Shanghai with the American branch at this port.

This may be taken as a good augury of increased trade relations between this country and China in the near future and one of the practical expressions of the plans the Chinese visitors have frequently announced to draw the financial interests of the two countries closer together. The prospectus for the new bank has been put out in New York and provides for a capital of $10,000,000 Shanghai currency, or about $6,000,000 in American money. The articles of incorporation are to be registered with the Ministry of Agriculture and Commerce at Peking and Chinese and Americans will be permitted to subscribe in equal amounts to the stock, which will be issued in 10,000 shares of $100 each, Shanghai currency. The directorate and officials will be composed of Americans and Chinese and an office to receive subscriptions and complete organization is to be established forthwith with the Chinese Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai. It will be incorporated under the title of "The Sino-American Banking Corporation, Limited," and will have a limited liability.

The American banking interests supporting the enterprise are said to be the same as those which comprised the American Banking Syndicate that was formed to get a share of the loans to China, that is, the National City Bank, the First National Bank, J. P. Morgan & Co., and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. all of New York.

The details are not so important, however, as the effect the establishment of new American banking interests in China will have on the trade and commerce of the two countries. It will help greatly to facilitate the recently invigorated plan to make the dollar exchange popular throughout the world. The merchants, importers and exporters of both countries have been handicapped in the past by the influence of the London sterling money market on trade and the circuitous route commercial paper had to take to be liquidated. It will establish a direct route between China and American trade. It puts into concrete form the hope of Chinese business—to develop to a greater extent with the United States than with any other country. If the Sino-American banking corporation is not successfully launched it will not be through lack of a spirit of co-operation in the Orient. Greater banking facilities, more steamships and direct intercourse is the new slogan of Chinese commerce.

MR. EDISON'S IDEA OF "PREPAREDNESS."

The question of national defense is being considered by men of all classes and from every possible angle these days, for it seems that the country is generally awake to the fact that we are in a woeful state of unpreparedness to meet the assaults of a powerful foreign enemy. The views of Mr. Thomas A. Edison are interesting in the first place because they are Edison's. The great mechanic, whose fairly long life has been devoted to getting the most effective and highest productive values out of mechanical combinations, naturally turns first to the mechanics of national defense. He discusses the different parts of the machine with the crispness and sureness with which he might describe a phonograph or a generator.

Paraphrased from his statement to the New York Times, Mr. Edison indicates the "parts" required for the machine, in the light of the lessons of the European war, to include 2,000,000 rifles in perfect order; fully equipped armories with a capacity of 100,000 small arms a day; a large surplus stock of the best ammunition and government factories with an output of 1000 tons of high explosives a month; a thousand trenching engines (an implement to be developed) and other mechanical devices for rapid defense; a great supply of field pieces, large cannon and ammunition; arsenals to manufacture large guns quickly; shells, powder and raw material in large quantities; automobiles or an organization through which autos might be commandeered; stronger fortifications on the coasts than at present and guns of longer range than any ship can carry; a larger navy than at present, new ships of all kinds that might remain in dry dock, that is storage, in good condition until needed; research laboratories wherein may be developed new things in explosives, artillery, all the technique of military and naval progression; new military and naval academies.

With this equipment Mr. Edison thinks we might get along with a standing army not much larger than at present, about 100,000 men, provided the State Militia is organized on efficient lines under national control, and there is available about 40,000 men competent to act as drill masters to instruct a vast army quickly in time of emergency. Mr. Edison discounts the value of a large standing army because the nature of fighting in Europe has shown that the field and parade maneuvers formerly taught are of negligible value—the important things for the modern soldier to know is to how to dig and shoot.

In other words, Mr. Edison would reduce the matter of defense to a scientific business proposition and make it adequate to the theoretical requirements of defense.

After promising, in his fourth statement to the public, his retirement from the Secretaryship of State, that he would have nothing more to say for the present, Mr. Bryan now comes out with a fifth. By way of relieving himself from the charge of a raw inconsistency, he declares that the President's second Lusitania note is milder in tone than the draft which he would have had to sign if he had remained in office. This may or may not be the fact. But whether it be or not, it does not alter the other fact that Mr. Bryan's plea has in it two elements, one of silliness and the other of vindictiveness. In effect this latest statement is a charge of bad faith against the President. This, of course, means the beginning of a campaign of explanation and of resentment on the part of Mr. Bryan. Probably it is the beginning of a split in the Democratic party. Assuredly if there shall remain to Mr.

Bryan, after his amazing course in the last ten days, anything of his old prowess, he will stand at the head of a party movement unfriendly if not positively antagonistic to President Wilson.

A MATTER OF COMMON SENSE.

There came into The Tribune office yesterday a man full of a very proper and a very timely purpose. "I want you to help me," he said, "in the organization of a practical scheme of benevolence. I want the co-operation of the people of Oakland. Then, when I shall get the movement started here, my idea is to go to Berkeley, to Alameda, Richmond, Hayward and perhaps to other places and create an organization in each of them."

"I take it," replied the editor, "that you have not passed by San Francisco with this project?"

"Oh, no," was the answer, "we have a very successful work there. We have a central organization which has been busy and successful for something more than half a year."

"Have you only one organization?" asked the editor.

"Pray, after having organized downtown did not you proceed with another organization uptown? And having gotten this far why didn't you go to the Potrero, the Western Addition, Richmond, Sunset and Rincon Hill, and all the rest of it, and make little organizations in each of these places?"

"Oh," was the reply, "we have one organization for each community."

"That being the case," replied the editor, "I don't just see why you are proposing a dozen organizations in this East Bay community. The Tribune will be very glad to help you in the promotion of a general East Bay movement. But it doesn't see any reason for, and it must decline to help forward, a dozen little petty organizations instead of one comprehensive one. There is no more reason for working by piece-meal on this side of the bay than there is on the other. Since your work is in no sense political, there is no point in limiting it to township or other lines. Don't bother with a dozen little groups; just organize the East Bay communities into one association, give it a name that will apply to all—you can't do better than Alameda, the name of the county—and let it go at that."

Recitation of this conversation may seem a bit trivial. None the less there is connected with it a very important consideration. The East Bay communities are practically one—one in their geographical situation, one in all their purposes and ambitions. But while this is plainly the fact, they are not one in organization, either political or social. We waste time and money and lose the strength which co-operation would give us. If we were under the guidance of a prudent large mindedness, if we would harken to common sense, we would wipe out the petty lines and distinctions which mark off this essentially coordinated community into a clutter of petty bailiwicks. If this cannot, in a political sense, be done at this time, it ought at least to be done in a social sense. There is tremendous waste, with a stupid multiplication of petty officials in the many social organizations up and down this East Bay shore. And these separate organizations are distinctly harmful in that they tend to separation rather than to consolidation of community sentiment.

The Tribune would like to see a movement here tending, along all lines, to consolidation of East Bay interests. We are not thinking of a movement by which Oakland may swallow her neighbors. Rather we are thinking of a movement large enough to swallow Oakland. Is not the suggestion worth thinking about?

ENGLISH WOMEN AND THE WAR.

It is a foregone conclusion that in many and in vital ways the position of woman in England is to be very greatly modified by circumstances connected with or growing out of the pending war. If there were nothing more than the issue associated with the "war baby" condition, this alone would be sufficient to modify radically the British attitude toward the unmarried mother. Then, likewise in respect of the war, there arises another problem due to the enlarged and very serious disparity between the numbers of men and women. Here again is a situation bound to have its effect upon social practice and tending inevitably to a shifting of moral standards in the sex relationship.

Still another effect of the war must come in consequence of the part women are playing in domestic industries. With a very considerable proportion of young and serviceable men of every local community gone to the front, many of them never to return, the women have entered necessarily, and we may not doubt permanently, into many employments from which hitherto they have been barred. Today throughout England a very large part of what is traditionally regarded as men's work is being done by women, and so well done that there will be small disposition in future to shut against them the old doors of proscription.

There is still another way in which the young womanhood in England is being affected by the war. Throughout the country women are being enrolled in what is called the Women's Volunteer Reserves, a military organization designed as a last defense in the event, through invasion, the war should be brought home. Many thousands of young girls have been enrolled in these companies, carefully uniformed and rigidly drilled. We have before us as we write a photograph of a company of "khaki girls" under inspection at Ealing, England, with their colonel, a woman of commanding presence, mounted and leading them forward. Possibly the Women's Reserve will never be called into action. But whether or not they shall be required to fight, they are getting through organization and drill both a state of body and a state of mind which must tend tremendously towards the goal of enfranchisement over which in years past there has been so much and such embittered contention.

There still remains to be considered the effect upon British sentiment of the way in which the women recently enrolled under the "militant" banner have turned their energies into patriotic channels. From Mrs. Pankhurst down the line, they have acted in a manner so entirely becoming as to command respect in quarters where before they were regarded, and quite justly, with resentment and contempt. This must be reckoned not least among the influences tending to modify the position of woman in England. We suspect that under this head there is to come many changes and some surprises.

Senator Newlands sees a probable solution of the Mexican problem in the development of friendship and goodwill on the part of the Mexicans in return for the food we are sending them. This is guilelessness in one of its sweetest phases. You will get the goodwill of the Mexican by doing him favors just about as quickly and certainly as you will convert a rattlesnake to gentleness and kindness by the same means. The only influence the average Mexican knows anything about is that of force. Effort along any other line to get his goodwill is just so much effort thrown away.

The contest between ex-Mayor P. H. McCarthy, Supervisor "Andy" Gallagher and ex-Mayor Eugene Schmitz for the position of Mayor of San Francisco is going to be a very interesting one. And it won't matter much which wins.

Peaches!
There are 100,000 acres of peaches in California. Peaches are the second largest crop in the state. It is estimated that the state will produce 100,000,000 bushels of peaches this year.

Bronze Wine Exhausted.
Rumor has had it more than once about the exhaustion of the "Bronze Wine" from which the most distinguished members of the aristocracy are supposed to derive their strength. Now the fact is that the wine has been exhausted by the distribution of the plaques which the distribution of the plaques has exhausted the wine.

I am sorry, here on a tour of inspection of the rice fields, to have no definite plans for the inspection of my ranch, said "Hired State Senator" James D. Phelan shortly after his arrival here. Social Justice and Lamb.

Good Stuff.
In democratic countries like America, where the fate of the nation is in the hands of the people, the future of the nation is in the hands of the children. They must be fitted for their high responsibility by the influences of the home. These countries should fear the disloyalty and contention of the fireside more than the nefarious plots of scheming politicians.—Willows Review.

Going Good.
The Richmond-Marlin ferry has been a success from the first boat sent out from this city to Point San Quentin. Every trip made since service was inaugurated about a month ago the steamer "Ellen" has been well patronized and automobiles have held the line for hours on certain holidays and Sundays, waiting their turn to cross the bay by the new route.—Richmond Record-Herald.

Even More Than Men.
Much has been said about the necessity of keeping the boys at home on the farm, the girls on the farm also constitutes a problem is shown by the replies received from North Dakota by Chicago's Municipal Employment Bureau. ## PAPER MONEY ISSUES IN EUROPE.

Methods necessary in financing the war.
The bank of France has been authorized by the government to increase its circulation to 15,000,000,000 francs, equivalent to $2,000,000,000 of dollars. France, exclusive of any gold or silver that may be in circulation in that country.

The bank is also authorized to advance the French government $2,000,000,000 francs, in paper money, with the war but ten months going, and possibly ten months of it at still greater cost to follow.

Some British observers have advised their countrymen to be patient for three years of war, but that must be regarded as an extreme view of its duration.

The burden of expense on France is not so great as on Great Britain, which has now to finance Serbia, keep up the Belgian forces and Italy will look to Great Britain to provide the funds that will certainly be required by hundreds of millions of dollars to cover the expenses of the conflict.

Great Britain and France have lost in the aggregate more than $400,000,000 money put in as investments in Mexico, and their investors felt that loss exceedingly until it has faded into the background by reason of the much greater losses they have attended the war they are now engaged in.

The allies are purchasing such great quantities of provisions and war supplies in other countries that the payment for them is affecting their foreign supplies to a great extent directly from their own people, and probably not extending the vast sums which the allied countries are doing, yet the financial burdens are going upon the European people in a most weighty manner.

SAN FRANCISCO TO ALBANY.

Scene in the Executive Mansion at Albany when Gov. Whitman telephoned. "Hello, governor. Will you kindly give me the exact time?"

"It's just 5:45 here. It's a beautiful afternoon, and the sun is shining. What time have you there?"

"That's the way Mayor Joseph W. Stevens, while sitting in the executive mansion Friday night, exchanged greetings with Gov. Charles S. Whitman at the New York state building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco.

The conversation was carried on over a long distance telephone wire 3400 miles long, suspended on 120,000 poles and running through 12 states.

About 120 receivers were attached to the Albany end of the line at the mansion, and, with Dr. John H. Finley, commissioner of education, as master of ceremonies, all who desired had an opportunity to chat with someone at "Frisco. Acting Governor Edward Schoenbeck assured Gov. Whitman over the wire that the ship of state was running on an even keel and that a sharp lookout was being kept for submarines. The governor expressed the hope that life preservers were within easy reach.

"Who's there?" asked the governor. "About 150 state officials and politicians," volunteered Dr. Finley.

"Heavens! Is the silver locked up?" came the anxious inquiry across the continent, and everybody laughed.

The governor also talked to his son, Charles S. Whitman, Jr., over the phone, but as the real boss of the mansion is only a few weeks old he refused to have anything to say. One of the nurses held the transmitter close to the little one's ear and begged it to cry for papa. Lambert St. Clair tried to provoke a cry by scowling and making grimaces. Charles Seymour Whitman, Jr., ignored the appeals of the nurses and the grimaces completely. He seemed to have made up his mind that he would have nothing to say.

"He won't talk, governor," said the nurse despairingly over the telephone. "If he misses this chance, he isn't a Whitman," came the word from the governor's end of the wire.

More appeals from the nurses and more grimaces by St. Clair only made the baby stare at them with big eyes. Then William A. Orr, the governor's secretary, conceived the idea of placing the receiver at the baby's ear and having the governor speak to him.

"Hello, baby," the governor shouted. "No one was willing to tell how it was brought about, but at that moment Charles Seymour Whitman, Jr. cried across the continent.

"Did you hear him, governor?" asked Secretary Orr.

NOTABLE PERSONS

Charles S. Whitman, governor of New York, and party, arrived in Los Angeles from San Diego after a visit to the Panama-California Exposition. The party was taken for a sight-seeing tour of the city and suburbs in autos by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The remainder of the day was spent in resting.

President Storching of the Nobel Peace Prize Committee, in an official statement, expresses his regret that the Nobel peace prize cannot this year be awarded to Pope Benedict XV, as suggested. The statement says that His Holiness' name was not proposed to the committee in time.

William F. Pack, former governor of the mountain province of Luzon, in the Philippine Islands, and now a plantation owner on the island of Hawaii, near Cuba, is in San Francisco with Mrs. Pack.

John D. Isaacs of New York, consulting engineer for the Southern Pacific Company, is at the Hotel Oakland with Mrs. Isaacs.

Prince David Kawakawakoa of Hawaii, accompanied by Princesses Kapilani and Lydia Kawakawakoa, are in San Francisco.

John W. Considine of Seattle, owner of a circuit of vaudeville houses on the coast, is in San Francisco.

ADVISED TO STUDY HISTORY.

When Prof. Yandell Henderson of Yale tried to excuse the Belgian atrocities by saying that Montauk Point had produced a crop of "war babies" after the Spanish-American war, and when he declared that Georgia, after Sherman's march to the sea, was left no better off than Poland, he stirred up a hornet's nest.

"I doubt," says a writer, "that there were 100 women living within 10 miles of Camp Wikoff. The only woman in the camp were trained nurses, and the greater part of the soldiers were physical wrecks." And a woman who lived in Georgia in 1864 has this to say in defense of the manliness of Sherman's troops: "The non-combatants were left almost starving, but there were no atrocities and no 'frightfulness.' The women and children were not molested. The damage was great and deplorable, but it was not accompanied by beastliness or cruelty."

Professor Henderson had better drop around to some freshman tutor's room on the Yale campus and take a course in American history.—Newark News.

TRIBUNE'S PAGE for WOMEN and the KIDDIES

Society in Tutuila has been reduced to twenty-eight with the departure of Mrs. Edward Graham Parker, who arrived on the Sogoma last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Laine, in Alameda. Mrs. Parker was the twenty-ninth member of the smart set in the Samoan navy station, where Dr. Parker is attached to the United States navy hospital. There are just eleven left.

Not that Tutuila society is exclusive. There is no one to exclude. It is simply limited. But gay and charming with tennis teas, all fresco dinners in the wild luxuriant garden with their strange flowers and thick fernery.

No one is bored in Tutuila, and this is strange because there are no theaters or cafes, no balls or brilliant entertainment and never a fire for charity. Which suggests a theory that cannot may be a result of too much diversion.

There are even no fashions for the women. It is hopeless to try to keep up with Paris, and no one tries. A recent picture of Tutuila society posed under a palm tree shows graceful models of 1912 in white linen.

Mrs. Parker has returned to place her children in school and later may return to the South sea, where she found the most suitable climate of Samoa that Steven has written.

Strike Both Ends

(By LILLIAN RUSSELL)

WOMEN are urged to remove the cause, the effect will then disappear. It is right to rectify such basic conditions but while doing so there is no reason why both ends—cause and effect—should not be tackled at the same time.

The woman with a shiny nose may rightfully attribute her misfortune to some organic or other disorder, but that should not prevent her from using a powder puff to cover up outward signs of her trouble and improve her appearance.

A tonic or a doctor's prescription may be necessary to remove the cause, but she can help to eradicate the effect in harmless ways.

Generally due to some physical disturbance—probably an impoverished system and correction is necessary to secure permanent results of a desirable character.

This does not mean that this victim should not use nourishing applications and skin foods while attempting to rid a wrong condition which is the primary cause of the trouble. And so in many instances it is advisable to deal directly with the effect while treating the cause. There is no particular reason why a woman should be bothered and embarrassed by a shining nose when she realizes that the use of a small amount of powder will make her nose presentable. That is why face powder is made. She should not hesitate to apply a good skin food or lotion to a blemished cheek merely because the deflection is the result of impure blood. Such lotions and foods are concocted and prepared for this very purpose.

It is perfectly right and proper immediately to deal with the cause of your troubles and the dealing should be direct, vigorous and persistent. But at the same time you should make an effort directly to reach the effect.

I mention only some instances where it is possible to deal with the cause and effect at the same time. There are others. Remember: It is not necessary to advertise your impure blood by neglecting to apply skin foods and lotions to your blemished cheek. Enough evidence of the disorder may still remain after you have taken such measures, but it will be minimized.

Garis' Bedtime Stories

Uncle Wiggily and Jimmie's Feathers

By HOWARD R. GARIS.

"Caw! Caw! Caw!" uttered Jimmie, the crow, as he fluttered down from the bungalow to the yard. He had just come from the porch of the bungalow where Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, lived. "Caw! Caw! Caw!" crowed Jimmie.

"Well, what are you laughing about now, Jimmie?" asked Nurse Jane. "Wuzzie, the muskrat lady housekeeper, is laughing! I wasn't laughing, Jimmie answered, making a polite little early morning bow. "I was just saying 'Caw! Caw! Caw!'"

"Oh, I thought you were laughing at 'Caw! Caw! Caw!'" said Nurse Jane. "I was calling Uncle Wiggily," Jimmie went on. "Can he come out this morning?"

"M. goodness sakes me alive and a basket of peacocks' padding!" cried the muskrat lady. "Any one would think Nurse Jane was a genius with you, Jimmie, instead of being an old rabbit, with the rheumatism. The idea of you wanting him to come out and play with you!"

"Oh, but I just love Uncle Wiggily," said Jimmie. "We all do. Can't he come out?"

"Who come out? What's the matter? What is it?" asked a voice and there stood the rabbit gentleman himself.

"Jimmie wants you to come out," Nurse Jane explained. "He says he wants to have some fun before school."

"Oh, all right, I'll be with you as soon as I have had my breakfast," said Uncle Wiggily. "Just amuse yourself Jimmie, my boy. But don't go to hitting my crutch, nor stuffing my airship inside my automobile," begged the rabbit gentleman with a shake of his ears.

"I won't," the crow boy promised. So he sat down on the bungalow porch and closed his eyes in order that he would not see anything bright to hide and so make trouble. Crow boys are always looking for things to hide, such as a thimble or a pair of ice cream cones, and Jimmie was just like all other crows.

Pretty soon Uncle Wiggily had finished his breakfast of carrot lemonade, with apple sauce sandwiches, and out he came. "I'll take you for a little ride in my airship, Jimmie," he said. "I'll have you at school just before the last bell rings."

"That will be lovely; thank you, Uncle Wiggily," said Jimmie.

"But where is your sister Mary? Perhaps she would like to ride also."

"No, Mary has gone on early this morning," Jimmie explained. "She and Alice Wibbleswallow, the duck girl, are going to make dolls' dresses."

Soon Uncle Wiggily was ready to start. He and Jimmie took their places in the clothes basket airship, that had toy circus balloons on it to make it rise in the air, and an electric fan in the back that went around whizzleslike, to push the airship along.

"Wait! Wait!" cried Nurse Jane, running out of the bungalow, and waving her paws. "Wait a minute!"

"Are you coming also?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"No, indeed! I have too much to do," Nurse Jane made answer, sort of flustered like, and out of breath. "But I wish you would bring me a feather duster from the store. I need a new one, as the old one is worn out."

"A feather duster?" Uncle Wiggily exclaimed. "Of course I'll bring it. Hold fast now, Jimmie. Here we go!"

And up they went in the airship. It did not take the rabbit gentleman and the crow boy long to reach the store in the fast airship. Uncle Wiggily bought the feather duster, and then he steered the airship for the hollow stump school, where Jimmie and the other animal boys and girls learned their lessons.

The airship was going along nicely, when, all of a sudden, Jimmie felt that he simply must hide something. He had hidden nothing that day. He looked at

Uncle Wiggily. "The rabbit gentleman was leaning over the steering wheel, making the airship a drink of water out of the bottle he had brought with him."

"There is something I can hide!" thought the crow boy, as he snatched a piece of shiny tin near the electric fan. "No one will find it if I hide that," Jimmie thought.

Up he fluttered, intending to get the tin, when all of a sudden, there came a puff of wind, and Jimmie was blown right up against the whizzing electric fan.

"Whoa! Whoa! Whoa!" the fan went, and all at once a lot of Jimmie's feathers were pulled out of him. He lay down on his back and some from his wings. The feathers were tangled up in the electric fan, and out they came, puffed right out.

"Oh, dear!" cried Jimmie. "Oh, me! Oh, me! Oh, look at me!" he cried, as he lay on his back. "All my feathers are gone! I'm just like I was when I was a baby crow. I never can go to school this way! They'll all laugh at me!"

"Well, it is too bad!" Uncle Wiggily said. "But you should not have gone so near the electric fan."

"I can't mean to," cawed Jimmie. "Oh, dear! What shall I do?"

Uncle Wiggily felt badly for the little crow chap, and said:

"Well, Jimmie, I think I can fix you. I'll take some feathers from Nurse Jane's duster, and stick them on you with pieces of court-plaster. Then you will look all right until your own feathers grow in again."

"Oh, thank you!" cawed Jimmie. So the rabbit gentleman pulled some feathers out of the duster, and stuck them on Jimmie. Of course some of them did not match, and Jimmie did not look as nice as he usually did.

"But it's better than going to school half-feathered," said the crow boy.

"I think so, too," spoke Uncle Wiggily. Then he sent the airship down to the school, while the rabbit gentleman went to get the duster on to Nurse Jane. And so didn't mind because some feathers were pulled out for poor Jimmie, as there were enough left to make the bungalow tidy.

So this teaches us that feather dusters are useful for something else besides tickling the piano key, and if the circus elephant doesn't take my popcorn, ball and throw it at the doll's looking-glass, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Mary's pie.—Copyright, 1915, by McClure's Newspaper Syndicate.

BRIDE'S GOWN AFIRE, WEDDING IS HALTED

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 14.—Tragedy almost interrupted nuptial happiness at a wedding in St. Mary's Greek Catholic church when, during the procession preceding the ceremony, a lighted candle being carried by one of the best men came in contact with the bride's long veil, and in an instant the gauze adornment was ablaze.

The bride, who was Miss Annie Brink, was burned about the arms and shoulders. Determined that the ceremony should go on, a visit was made to a nearby store and in a short time a new trousseau was purchased and following the return of the bridal party to the church the ceremony was completed.

DRUM STICKS GALORE.

SAVANNA, Ill., June 14.—Freak chickens seem to be somewhat of a fad in this locality. John Acker, a farmer near here, reports a three-legged chicken on his farm, it having arrived very recently. Mrs. Henry Kessler, another farm resident near here, reports a still stranger feat. In the form of a four-legged chicken, which is said to be otherwise perfect and in the best of condition.

BLUE-EYED GIRL SUES BIG MINER

$7200 Will Compensate for Past, She Tells Trial Court

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Miss Arabella Harrison, a wayward girl with big blue eyes, began the trial of a suit before a jury in Judge Hunt's court this morning against Hugh E. Stock, wealthy mining man of Colorado and California, for the recovery of $7200 for services rendered as his nurse and housekeeper.

Miss Harrison, who is 23 years old, alleges in her complaint that she should be reimbursed in the amount named for her devotion and care of Stock while they lived in this city.

Miss Harrison recites in her complaint that she accompanied Stock to Los Angeles, Denver, Venice, Sunnyside, Cal., and other places, passing as his wife.

The complaint sets up that she met Stock in a rooming house where she was employed in a small town as a waitress. Their friendship developed rapidly, she says, and after a few months she was retained by him to accompany him to various places. When Stock was so persuaded, she says, she was but 19 years old.

Miss Harrison is represented by Attorney Walter McGovern and Stock is represented by James P. Sweeney, who was counsel for J. Parker Whitney when that young millionaire was prosecuted by the federal authorities for violating the Mann act.

Stock is a mining man whose home is in Denver. He has had oil properties in California, and formerly lived at the Palmdale Hotel. He is one of the owners of the Stock-Stephens asbestos mine at Sunnyside, Stanislaus county, and is associated with a magnesian company having offices here.

Miss Harrison said yesterday that she has been intimidated on several occasions since the filing of the papers in the suit, that efforts have been made to induce her to leave the city.

"Three times I have lost positions I have held in restaurants here because of injurious stories told about me to my employers by persons interested in the defense," said Miss Harrison. "I have been compelled to change my residence three times recently for the same reason."

Stock is considerably older than Miss Harrison and was familiarly called "Dad" by the girl.

GIRL GOES HOME; POLICE ON TRAIL.

BAY POINT, June 14.—Leaving a note to her parents stating that she had gone to Alameda, and that search for her would be useless, Mary Tarantino, 16 years old, disappeared from her home in Nichols, near here, yesterday.

Search was instituted under the direction of Sheriff Veale of Contra Costa county and the girl was traced to Bay Point, where she boarded Santa Fe train No. 22. Inquiries led to the discovery that she had purchased a ticket to Fresno, and the authorities at that point were notified by Sheriff Veale to intercept her. Tarantino is employed in the works of the General Chemical Company of Nichols.

LACK OF PETTICOATS CAUSES DIVORCE SUIT.

CHICAGO, June 14.—John E. Hoglund, who charged that his wife, Emily, "smoked cigarettes and did not wear petticoats," refused to be reconciled before Judge Sabath. Mrs. Hoglund asserted that she had stopped smoking and explained that "petticoats made walking difficult in the modern styles." She said her underskirts were too long for the short skirt worn now.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD GIRL BUTTERS WITH RIVER.

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—Four-year-old Beatrice Whitlam swam 320 yards in the Schuylkill river yesterday in 13½ minutes. The feat took place over the Philadelphia Swimming Club's course at Lafayette.

WHITE LINED UP TO STAY CHIEF

Police Commission Expected to Rename Appointee of McCarthy.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—The Board of Police Commissioners announced today that a special meeting will be held tomorrow morning at which time it is understood Chief of Police David Augustus White will be re-appointed for four years. The statement was made in connection with the announcement of the meeting that there would be an appointment to the vacancy in the office of Chief Executive of the department and every one agrees that White will be once more selected. He has become more and more popular with his superiors and his subordinates and it is understood that he is the choice of Mayor James Rolph Jr., as well as the latter's appointees on the board.

White was first named Chief by Mayor P. H. McCarthy when that official desired to get rid of Chief John Seymour. When Seymour was forced to retire, it was understood at that time that White's appointment was but temporary and that Mayor McCarthy held his resignation in waiting. It was never used, however, and when Mayor Rolph took office there was but one feasible attempt to oust the McCarthy appointee. This ended in failure and as Chief White gained in experience, he also succeeded in winning the esteem of those whom it had been reported, were trying to get his job. Of recent years, although the department has been at times criticised, White has had the confidence of his superiors.

He and the administration did not get on well together and he was discharged. He refused to abdicate and for a week San Francisco had two chiefs of police. When the board of police, the various districts decided to report to White in place of Seymour and take the former's orders, Seymour was forced to retire. It was understood at that time that White's appointment was but temporary and that Mayor McCarthy held his resignation in waiting. It was never used, however, and when Mayor Rolph took office there was but one feasible attempt to oust the McCarthy appointee. This ended in failure and as Chief White gained in experience, he also succeeded in winning the esteem of those whom it had been reported, were trying to get his job. Of recent years, although the department has been at times criticised, White has had the confidence of his superiors.

TWO MEN SHOT DOWN IN STREET

Following an altercation at the Portuguese I. D. E. S. Hall, at Thirty-fourth and Howard streets early this morning, several shots were fired mysteriously at John Alves, 114 Thirty-seventh street, and Robert Peterson, 2129 Fifteenth avenue. Peterson was wounded in the left foot, while Alves received a flesh wound in the right leg. Both young men were treated at the Receiving Hospital.

The police failed to capture the man who had done the shooting, and an investigation is being made and arrests may follow.

The police report, made by Inspectors
Drew and Wood after an investigation last night, states that Peterson and several young men went to the hall, where a dance was being held by Albert Un-dill, 3435 Howard street. They tried to obtain admittance without paying at the door, and when they were refused, the police were called. One of the boys hit Undill in the eye. An Italian, whose name the police were unable to obtain, drew a revolver and fired two shots at Peterson.
One shot took effect.

John Alves, who was standing at the corner, about 100 feet away, waiting for a street car. The second bullet struck him.

THREE MASKED ROBBERS HOLD UP PORTLAND CAR

collecting in all about $100. They fired three shots, two through the roof of the car and one through the floor, to intimidate the passengers.
Some of the passengers were searched. The men then ordered the motor-went on to Oregon City, two and a half miles distant, and returned to the scene of the hold-up with Sheriff

Wilson and a posse.

FEWER FURLOUNDS FOR MISSIONARIES

Three-Year Extension of Time Between Rests Proposed; Week of Prayer

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE (St. Helena), June 15. — To make the time before the annual conference of the seven is the proposition which has come from Seventh-day Adventist missionaries in the Chinese field, according to the word brought by Elder A. G. Daniels, president of the general world conference of the denomination. This statement is made here in a short address before the annual general and young people's missionary volunteer council, in session here.

"Some who voted this had furious arguments," just continued Elder Daniels. "They said voluntarily. 'We are not sick. We would not spend money to go over the ocean.'"

"We would like to give us a visit to our people in America, any more than to visit to their people," there to go on a visit to their people."

President Daniels said that missionaries in Southern India should spend some time annually in the hill-stations of the country along the great Himalayan mountain

"Our foreign missionaries must have more help," the speaker added. "In Honan province, China, we have only two white men. These are the native workers."

TALL MAN IN ALICE.

Dress, table manners and first-timers were subjects dwelt upon by Elder J. L. Evans, president of the North American Convention, in an address on "Cultural Education of Chinese." He suggested a neat uniform for girls attending Adventist colleges. "Men," he said, "must be a choice between the two."

Instruction and unification of all first academies is the aim of a recommendation passed by the council, creating in the North American section five, each subject taught, composed of the teachers in the college, academies and intermediate schools in that territory; the head of each department in the college to be secretary ex-officio of the section in which he

It was voted also to create college sections in the entire North American field, all the college teachers of one subject in the entire continent to constitute a section the secretary, or leaders of the section in each case, to be appointed annually by the department of education of the North American division conference. It is thought this will bring into association between the heads of similar departments of the various Adventist colleges.

WEEK OF PRAYER

A special week of prayer to be observed by all Adventist schools, was decided upon, the first week in April being suggested as a suitable time. A vigorous campaign will be undertaken this summer to increase the enrollment of all the schools of the denomination from 10 to 25 per cent.

"The Spiritual and Training Value of Missionary Education," was the subject of a paper by M. L. Andreason of Hutchinson, Minn. G. E. Nord and J. H. Schilling led in the discussion.

field young people's secretary for North America; and "Personal Evangelism," by President Evans, were subjects taken up. Elder Daniells spoke at the Sabbath service on "The World-wide Call to Our Young People."
